A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

THE NEWBERN Daily and Weekly Progress.

THE PUBLIC Mat the unceremonious entrance of Burnside finto Newbern on Friday last has compelled the temporary suspension of the PROGRESS. This was a barbarous and villandous proceeding of old Burnside, finasmuch as it has deprived the public of the advantages of a good paper, besides the inconvenience to the citizens of Newbern.

By the discomfiture of our arms at Newbern, I have lost everything I had in the world—presses, type, and stock and other office material and furniture and other property of all kinds, is all gone—but still I hope to be able to make arrangements at an early day to issue the PROGRESS at some point not very remote from the old stand; this will depend however upon the extent to which Barnside is able to penetrate the bowels of the land.

Having lost all I have, I must urge all who are indebted to the PROGRESS office to make immediate settlement. Though in the army my address will be for the present, Goldsboro, N. C.

Evacuation of Jacksonville, Florida, by the Yankees.

From the Savannah News.] Several gentlemen arrived in this city yesterday, who left Lake City on Wednesday last. They state that the Federal troops evacuated Jacksonville on Tuesday night at 10 o'clock, taking all their guns, ammunition and provisions with them.
They had commenced to throw up entrenchments on the north side of the town, but an express arrived, and shortly afterwards all their tents were struck and their troops embarked on board three of their gunboats and sailed down the river. Previous to leaving the Federal troops reported that they had been ordered to reinforce their army at 1'ybee, to which point they had been ordered. It is estimated that the Federals had in Jacksonville from 1,500 to 2,000 men.

The Confederates, our informant says, had a camp of troops some ten miles from Jacksonville, commanded by Col. Davis, and that an express train had arrived at that point on Wednesday, bringing the intormation that the Federals had evacuated Jacksonville. As soon as this was known, the Jacksonville Light Infantry and a Florida cavalry corps occupied the town.

The Federals, upon their departure from men with open disdain and scorn. The Among the enemy's killed is Gen. Wal-Jacksonville, took with them one hundred and twenty five loval Union men from the own, and also a number of negroes, little more of the stringency of Gen. Hal. were acting Brigadiers. The former of nong the whites who left with the enewere Joseph Remington, Phillip Franer. C. Emery, J. W. Price, C. E. Robertson am O. L. Keen. The latter was the keeper of he Judson House, and had been toyal to the South until that building was destroyed to destroyed by ent over to the Federal when he

For ten days previous to the departure of the Federals, a number of the owners of escaped slaves went into the town under a flag of truce and claimed them. In every instance they were given up and restored to their masters. A Mr. Branning went in and demanded his negroes. He was told that he must take the oath of allegiance to the Union, but he sternly refused to do so, when, after a parly, his negroes were de-livered up, and assistance tendered him to

Two Yankees were captured, a few days since, a short distance from Jacksonville. They pretended to be deserters, but their story was not believed, and they were sent to Tallahassee. They report that the male slaves were set to work on the fortification north of the town, and that the females had all been placed in jail. A widow lady named Haddock, residing some few miles from Jacksonville, had all of her property destroyed and all her ne groes stolen. The Federals ascertained that she had two sons in the Confederate army, and went to her house hoping to capture them. They failed in the object and while in her residence destroyed all her furniture. Some drunken Federal soldiers with their knives killed a horse that was attached to a buggy which was standing before her door. We are informed that many other similar outrages were committed by the Federal troops.

We find the following items in the Huntsville Advocate of the 9th instant : In Manchester, Tenn., the other day, about 70 Federal cavalry entered the town, there being no resistance. As they passed Mrs. E. N. Marcell's house (her husband being in our army,) she waved a Confederate flag; the Captain demanded its surrender; she refused to give it us; he then threatened to burn her house, and finally ordered four men to present arms and take aim at her, but still she waved the flag and refused to give it up. We are informed by a gentleman who left Baltimore within a few days past, and has arrived here, that when the prisoners taken at the battle of Kernstown were passed through that city, the streets were thronged by ladies to do honour to the brave and unfortunate men, and that a subscription was instantly made up for em, contributed exclusively by ladies, to hem, contributed exclusively by times, to he amount of five thousand dollars. SALT EXTRACTED FROM BRINE - We blish, pro bono publico, the annexed letter from Professor Emmons to Governor Clark. There is, doubtless, a large quantity of brine in the country, and selt may be extracted from it.—Raleigh Register.

RALEIGH, April 11, 1862. To His Excellency. HENRY T. CLARK.

Governor of North Carolina. Sir: The inquiry which you made ye terday respecting the value of brine which has been employed for preserving meat is important at this time. Old brine will contain a large proportion of the salt used and may be recovered by builing it. Let the brine be poured into an iron bettle and stir in, while sold, the white of masers strain the liquid, while hot, in order to free it from a stringy sediment. Buil again and skim, if necessary, reducing the quantity of brine by evaporation until a pelicle of fine salt forms upon the surface, it may now be set by to cool while christials of fine salt will be formed. The brine should never be boiled until a dry mass is formed, as in that case it will be impure and dark colored. By repeating the evaporation, the salt may be obtained as pure and white as table salt.

Monday. Many of these are incoherent, and unreliable, but from the mass we are able to gather the following, which, in the absence of direct telegraph communication. we regard as very nearly the truth.

We have seen and conversed with a gen-tleman who left Corinth on Wednesday night, in company with four thousand of the prisoners, bound for Tuscaloosa, Ala. There was severe and sanguinary fighting on Sunday and Monday, but had been none since, at least up to the time of the departure of our informant. The loss of the Confederates in killed and wounded, up to that time, was between four and five thou sand, and that of the Federals was estimacally expressed by our informant, "There was a perfect sea of dead Yankees on the field." [The entire loss of the enemy, in killed, drowned, wounded and prisoners we learn from another source, is estimated at Corinth to be thirty thousand!] Up to Monday night our men were too busy attending to our own wounded to give any attention to those of the enemy.

Up to the time our informant left seven thousand prisoners had been brought in, Inca and among the here by private parties, from Mobile. In consequence of these disasters the Federal army is reported to be in disorder.

The following dispatch, received this morning by the enterprising proprietor of the Trout House, which corroborates the leading facts above recited, we are kindly permitted to copy :

CHATTANOOGA, April 10th. Proprietor of the Trout House : - All conur in our victory being complete. Drove them to their gunboats both days. They mmenced shelling-we retreated. Their oss, lowest estimate, 18,000 in killed on the field; Gen. Buell among them. Many of their and our wounded were burnt by he woods taking fire. We destroyed much of their ammunition, there being too much for us to haul off. The whole Militia of Louisiana and Mississippi has been called out and are coming up. W. D. LAVENDER. MOBILE, Ala., April 10, 1862. - A die atch from Corinth to the Tribune, of this ty, says that an armistice of three days has been saked for by the Federals for the purpose of burying their dead. Twelve thousand are reported to be killed, many thousands wounded, and many more thousands taken prisoners. Buell certainly killed.

We take the following from the Atlanta ntelligencer of Saturday :

FROM CORINTH. - We have just seen gentleman who left Corinth on Wednesday night last. The information he imparts to us, differs but little from our telegraphic repurts. He says that the prisoners taken at the battles of Sunday and Monday, with the exception of some 800, who were at Corinth when he left, have been sent to Corinth when he left, have been sent to Memphie—that in the latter place, when he left it, the wharves were crowded with people, waiting the arrival of Van Dorn's and Price's reinforcements for Beauregard—that large reinforcements had already peased on the line of the Tennessee railroads to Beauregard, estimated at 12,000.

Tuesday and Wednesday were devoted by both armies to the burial of the dead. Some little akirmishing only had taken place. Buelt fought his fresh troops on Monday; some 40,000 strong. The report at Corinth was that he was killed. Our informant asset hat much he heard reported informant says that much he heard reported is unreliable. His opinion is there will be no fight for some days.

The Charleston Courier, of the 11th, says that Colonel J. Johnston Pettigrew, who declined the appointment as a Brigadist General, has been induced by the advice of friends and indications of duty and public service, to abcept the appointment.
